Springboard foot

Details

These rubber springboard feet are used on most of Continental's range of springboards. They are supplied with holes to allow staples to be used to secure the feet to the underside of springboards. The feet should be attached using contact adhesive and staples.

PLEASE NOTE: some older standard school springboards have white rubber nosings rather than these feet. Please ensure you check which type you have before ordering