Details

These Junckers beech and brass sports floor bushings are removable access cover discs that expose a sub-floor anchor or socket for a sports gamespost.

They are ideally suited to provide access to post hole sockets for a wide range of sports requirements and suit Junckers timber sports flooring.

We also offer rubber suction cups (which must be purchased separately) to enable the bushings to be removed.

The price includes installation in the floor by our in-house Junckers approved technicians. An additional "Area Charge" applies based on the postcode of the installation address - you can check the Area Charge by entering your postcode on the box to the right.
