Impulse IF93 Back Extension

Details

Impulse IF93 Back Extension machine

The back extension is designed for developing the middle and lower back muscles. The multi-position footrest provides various ways for the user to target their back muscles while the design of the pad helps to eliminate spine pressure when in use.

The back extension machine is specifically designed for entry level studios and commercial gyms and offers a complete functional package that is easy to maintain.

The specially designed pads have different angles to allow them to suit different users to target muscles with greater effect through a full range of motion.

Key Features

- Multi position footrest
- Designed to eliminate spine pressure when in use
- Adjustable starting positions to suit different users

PLEASE NOTE: This item is delivered flat-packed and requires some self-assembly. Please contact us if you require a cost for installation and commissioning in your facility